

There are three main beaches on the island. The first beach one comes upon on the north-eastern part of the island and which runs along the the coastal area which has been developed, is called Potha. Here you will find your typical peachful sandy beaches with plenty of shade for the most part due to trees. There are also plenty of umbrellas and sunbeds for rent as well if that is your pleasure.

Fractured and jagged rocks are scattered along the shore, and the water is clear and blue. The beach is a mix of dark pebbles and sand, and the water is a vibrant blue. The sky is a clear, bright blue.
